The charitable organization agrees to not use, give, or sell the contact information of our members for additional solicitation by them or other organizations.

 A local charity is one where the local administrator has full autonomy to use or distribute donations solely within the local service area defined by 100+ WWC Greater Bluffton (see below.) Our intention is to support the community in a manner that respects the various political and religious differences among our 100+Women Who Care members. Political and directly religious organizations are not eligible for nomination. However organizations providing direct outreach for humanitarian efforts for the community such as a church run food pantry would be eligible for nomination. Furthermore, the Steering Committee members may, at their discretion, reserve the right to disqualify any nonprofit that will divide rather than bring our members together based on political or religious beliefs.*

Our local service area is defined as Greater Bluffton, Pritchardville, Okatie, Hardeeville and the rest of Beaufort county south of the Greater Beaufort area, and west of Hilton Head Island. Charities not within this defined area but within Beaufort County may be considered on a case-by-case basis if an urgent and critical need is identified before the quarterly meeting. The membership must vote to allow the nomination for that quarter only.
